

ABOUT

LAUREN TROTTER

I am a senior Environmental Science major and Political Science minor from Fort Worth, Texas. I am most interested in environmental policy, but I love all things environmental science and can't wait to talk about the program with you! I am a representative for the College of Science and Engineering within SGA. Last semester, I co-founded Frogs for the Future: A TCU Sustainability Initiative, which advocated for improved sustainability efforts and encouraged the creation of a full-time administrative position solely dedicated to sustainability at TCU. Additionally, I am a member of the TCU Sustainability Committee, which allows me to work with faculty and other students on sustainability projects. I have worked with all of the professors in my department and my program has allowed me to grow more than I thought possible. With that being said, stop by during my hours and we can chat about environmental science or anything at all!
